HEIDI

Take the leap with HEIDI, where cutting-edge technology meets unparalleled data sovereignty and security.

With HEIDI, your physical student ID card seamlessly integrates with your smartphone, enabling dual functionality between the card and the digital version. It's an innovative, user-friendly solution designed to keep you connected without compromising security or convenience.

A key advantage of HEIDI is that all personal data remains securely within your organization. ID cards are created exclusively from your organization's information, and they are tailored to include only the specific details needed for their intended purpose. Whether it's a library card, student ID, or a canteen ticket, HEIDI provides a flexible, highly secure solution designed around your needs.

Adding to the versatility, ANA-U provides advanced readers that support a range of technologies, including NFC, Bluetooth, and QR codes, ensuring tailored solutions for even the most demanding security requirements. HEIDI is built on the trusted wallet platforms of Google and Apple, with future-ready design enabling expansion to other wallets such as the EUDI Wallet. Best of all, there's no need for a separate app—simplicity is at the core of the experience.
